

SEEKS THE LAW'S AID TO STOP GATHERINGS

OPERATOR D'ARMIT WOULD PREVENT MASS MEETINGS

His Men Are Leaving Him—In Despair
He Looks About For a Way to Break Up the Crusader's Camps—
Sweeping Injunction Issued in West Virginia

Pittsburg, Pa., Aug. 5.—The striking miners gained considerable additional ground on the New York and Cleveland Gas Coal Company Wednesday. Only seven cars of coal came from the Turtle Creek mine, where the usual daily output is eighty cars. At Sandy Creek no coal was mined, and at Plum Creek the output was about thirty cars. At the present rate of progress the strikers will have the three mines entirely closed at the end of the week.

It is said President W. P. De Armit will spring a surprise on the strikers by trying through the local courts to have the three camps of strikers broken up. So long as the strikers are allowed to camp near the mines and hold their daily marching his diggers will not work. Many of them have told him if the strikers leave the vicinity they will go into the mines. Mr. De Armit claims the camps are illegal, and his attorneys are trying to prepare a court case against the strikers.

The hearings of District President Patrick Dolan, Secretary William Warner, National Organizer Cameron Miller, Paul Trimmer, Charles Shaw and Jacob Aufhalter, who were arrested on charges of riot, were held Wednesday afternoon before Squire Semmons of Turtle Creek. The information had been entered by Superintendent Thomas P. De Armit.

One of the deputy sheriffs swore that President Dolan carried a revolver. The squire will decide the case today. It is thought he will discharge Warner and Miller, who were not present when the alleged riotous speeches were delivered, and hold the others for court trial.

Arrangements have been completed for the open-air demonstration under the auspices of the United Labor League of Western Pennsylvania tonight on the Dequesne wharf, in the interest of the striking miners. The leaders expect 20,000 people to attend. They are urging all to attend, to show by their presence that they are in favor of free speech and the right of peaceable assembly. After the addresses an appeal will be made to the audience for financial assistance for the striking miners.

IN SOUTHERN INDIANA.

Striking Miners Determined to Stop Work in This Field.

Sullivan, Ind., Aug. 5.—Two hundred miners left Linton for the southern Indiana coal field Wednesday night in answer to a call from Petersburg and Little's. The miners accompanied them to the edge of the city and only parted after scenes of the greatest excitement. The miners are determined, and will be joined by 1,000 miners at Petersburg, from which point they will go to Little's. The miners in a number of mines in the southern Indiana field have been at work during the present strike, and every endeavor will be made to compel them to walk out. Violent means, however, will not be resorted to, the miners claim.

Another Sweeping Injunction.

Parkersburg, W. Va., Aug. 5.—On the application of A. B. Fleming, representing the Monongah Coal company of Fairmont and bond-holders of the company, Judge Jackson in the United States court issued a temporary injunction, to be argued and determined as to its permanency Sept. 2, restraining Eugene V. Debs and numerous others named and unnamed from conspiring to prevent the miners of the Monongah Coal company from continuing at work. The order prohibits meetings and marches on the highways and covers every conspiracy that may be entered into to induce the miners to quit work.

Threaten to Evict Strikers.

Wheeling, W. Va., Aug. 5.—There is little change in the strike situation. The chief feature, and one that is likely to cause great trouble, is the eviction of tenants from the mine houses. There were threats of burning the whole town of Franklin, which consists of mining tenements only, if the order is enforced. Another cause of complaint is that there are no new men to occupy the houses, and the move is merely coercion.

Organized a Union.

Pana, Ill., Aug. 5.—There was a mammoth mass-meeting of the miners of Pana at John's Hall Tuesday night, for the purpose of organizing a local union of the United Mine-Workers of America. A large union was organized.

Will Close Up Mines.

Lacon, Ill., Aug. 5.—The striking miners of the Streator district have decided that they must draw the line pretty close and close up all the smaller mines. By to-morrow not a miner in Marshall county will be working.

Miners Given an Advance.

Marion, Ill., Aug. 5.—The miners at the mines of the Ohio & Mississippi Valley Coal and Mining company struck Wednesday, and demanded a raise of 10 cents a ton for digging, and an appropriate raise for drivers and other workmen. Their demand was readily accepted, and in two hours they were working. All other miners adjacent to this city are running on full time.

THE BASEBALL REPORT.

Standing of the Clubs in the Various Leagues.

Chicago failed of its opportunity yesterday. Pittsburg lost to Cincinnati leaving the road open to seventh place, but the Colts allowed the Browns to carry away a game in the ninth inning and the standing remained unchanged. Meantime Louisville pulled up close by taking two games from Cleveland, one of them forfeited. Pittsburg and Cincinnati also tried two games, but the second was interrupted by a riot, in which beer bottles were thrown and an umpire arrested. When the game was finally called the score was a tie. Washington fought Brooklyn hard for eleven innings, but lost. Standing of the clubs:

Philadelphia Firemen Hurt.

Philadelphia, Pa., Aug. 6.—A fire which broke out at 11 o'clock Wednesday in the big chemical works of D. Jayne & Sons, at Bermuda and Tucker streets, Frankfort, which are operated by the Barrett Manufacturing company, importers and distillers of coal tar and manufacturers of roofing, injured many firemen, one perhaps fatally, and did damage amounting to $100,000. Seven firemen and two workmen were seriously burned by an explosion which occurred shortly after the fire broke out. The blaze originated in the big distilling house, and is supposed to have been caused by the explosion of distilled oil. The distilling house and the valuable machinery were totally destroyed. Other buildings located near the burned structure were badly damaged by the flames, and were only saved after a hard fight.

Favor More Silver.

London, Aug. 5.—The royal commission on agriculture has issued a report suggesting various palliatives for the existing depression in agriculture, which the commission attributes mainly to the general and persistent fall of prices and to foreign competition, which is not likely to abate. The commissioners declare their belief that measures tending to increase the value of silver would greatly assist agriculture.

Nation's Population Is 77,000,068.

Washington, Aug. 5.—The latest official estimate of the population of the United States is 77,000,068. This is made by the actuary of the treasury, an officer whose duty it is, at fixed intervals, to report on the per capita circulation of money in the United States. He estimates that the present holdings of money are $22.53 for every man, woman and child in the United States.

London, Aug. 6.—It is now known that the malady Lord Wolseley is suffering from is cancer of the throat, due, many assert, to excessive smoking. His chances of real recovery are very small.

DEMAND INDEMNITY FROM THE SULTAN

GOVERNMENT WILL GRANT NO FURTHER DELAY.

Turkey Must Settle Account—The Destruction of An American College in the Land of the Sultan to Be Paid For at Once—Minister Angel Instructed.

Washington, Aug. 5.—James B. Angell, minister to Turkey, carries with him instructions from the state department to press the indemnity claims filed here for the outrages committed on American missionaries at Harpoot and Marash about two years ago.

It will be remembered that in the disturbances at Harpoot the Armenian college was burned and the lives of a number of missionaries were in peril. Among these were Rev. C. F. Gates of Chicago and his wife. The Turkish government claimed that it was not responsible, since it had done all in its power to suppress the riot and protect the missionaries.

Secretary Olney last year instructed Minister Terrill to press the indemnity claims amounting to $100,000, but several European powers also had similar claims, which they thought best not to press while there was trouble brewing between Greece and Turkey, and at the suggestion of these powers Minister Terrill's instructions were modified and these claims allowed to stand for a time.

The state department now sees no reason why these claims should not be pressed for settlement, and Minister Angell has instructions to insist upon the payment of the indemnity, which amounts to $100,000.

Turkey May Fight.

London, Aug. 5.—A dispatch from Constantinople says the greatest activity is displayed at the Yildiz kiosk. Ministers are summoned to the presence of the sultan at all hours of the day and night. The military commission is busy discussing special measures and the ordering of further supplies of war material, which, it is believed, are destined for Crete, as Djavad Pasha, the new military commandant, has called for troops and munitions in order to crush the Christian rebellion.

JUDGE AND GOVERNOR CLASH.

Novel Difficulty Between the Federal Court and Indiana's Executive.

Indianapolis, Ind., Aug. 5.—Governor Mount, Attorney-General Tscham and the members of the board of state tax commissioners may be fighting to keep out of jail before the end of the week. After having been warned that they would be cited for contempt of court

GOV. MOUNT.

If they carried out their plans, they considered the appeal Wednesday 0 Deputy Attorney-General Moore from the Marion county board of review in the matter of the assessment of the Indiana Manufacturing company, notwithstanding an injunction issued by Judge Baker of the United States Court. The company has $360,000 capital stock issued for patents. After the local board had assessed the company on its capital stock Judge Baker held that stock issued for patents was not taxable, and enjoined the officers from listing the stock. The local board of review, which attempted to disregard the decision, was cited for contempt and purging itself by rescinding its action and begging pardon of the judge. It was then that the deputy Attorney-General appealed to the state board.

Senator Cullom Goes Abroad.

New York, Aug. 5.—United States Senator Cullom sailed for Southampton Wednesday. When asked what he thought of the reported raising of the American flag over Hawaii, he said: "If the report is true, and I hope it is, I am very glad of it. I hope it will come down again."

TELLS OF SITUATION DOWN IN HAWAII

MINISTER SEWALL WRITES TO THE STATE DEPARTMENT.

Everything Quiet There—No Reference Made to a Protectorate—Japanese Government Not Inclined to Be Unreasonable—Americans Said to Be Boycotted in Japan.

Washington, Aug. 5.—The last Hawaiian mail to reach the state department brings the record of events on the islands up to July 21, but as the news of the failure of the senate to act upon the annexation treaty had not then reached Honolulu there was no change in the status of the annexation problem to present. Minister Sewall reports that in the opinion of the best-informed people on the islands the Japanese government will be amply content with a recognition by the Hawaiians of the principle for which they contend, without insisting upon substantial pecuniary damages. It was also reported that the future conduct of the negotiations had been transferred entirely from Honolulu to Tokyo. No reference whatever was made in the dispatches to the reported intention to establish a protectorate.

JAPAN HOSTILE TO AMERICA.

Embittered by the Hawaiian Situation and Tariff Discriminations.

New York, Aug. 5.—Recent letters received in this city from Japan state that a strong anti-American feeling still exists in that country and that Americans are being boycotted on all sides by Japanese. First, the Hawaiian question, one letter says, stirred up the ill-feeling, which was afterward heightened by the discussion in the United States congress on the tariff when the proposition was advanced to tax severely certain Japanese goods. The Japanese took this as a direct affront, and they have not lost an opportunity since to belittle Americans and all that pertains to this country.

Still Clamor for Retaliation.

Berlin, Aug. 5.—The protectionists continue clamoring frantically for retaliation against the United States. The agrarian organ, the Deutsches Tageszeitung, strongly advocates the total prohibition of American corn, or at least the imposition of heavy taxes upon the leading imports, even upon cotton. The Kreuz Zeitung declares that only theoretical free traders and a few short-sighted and interested persons deny the necessity for German joining issues with American in the tariff war which the United States has declared with such presumption.

Wheelmen at Philadelphia.

Philadelphia, Aug. 5.—Twelve thousand out-of-town visitors are registered at the Arena, the L. A. W. headquarters, and the crowds have not more than started to come. This promises to be the most largely attended meeting the league ever held. Judging from present indications, the crowd will reach the number which Quaker City wheelmen have been claiming all along that it would, 30,000. Almost every professional of any importance in the country is here.

Young People's Alliance Meets.

LaPorte, Ind., Aug. 5.—The sixth annual convention of the Young People's alliance of the Evangelical Church met Wednesday at Oakwood Park, Syracuse. Addresses were given by the Rev. F. E. Spreng, of Cleveland, and the Rev. H. J. Hiekoefer, of Naperville Ill.

Indiana Mennonites to Go South.

LaPorte, Ind., Aug. 5.—The consummation of plans now outlined will result in an exodus of Mennonites from northern Indiana to Georgia, where options are held on a large tract of land which will be utilized for colonization. The plans, if carried into execution will result in the removal of about 500 families from Allen, Elkhart, Kosciusko and DeKalb counties.

Anthrax Affecting Iowa Cattle.

Sioux City, Iowa, Aug. 5.—Anthrax has broken out among cattle here and the animals are dying in large numbers. The state veterinarian and the milk inspector have been telegraphed to come at once. Senator Gorman Will Retire.

Washington, Aug. 5.—The Washington Post quotes a prominent Maryland democrat, who is described as a devoted personal and political friend of Senator Gorman, to the effect that the Maryland senator will not be a candidate for re-election. At the end of his present term Senator Gorman will have served twenty-four years.

Senator McEnery Explains.

New Orleans, La., Aug. 5.—United States Senator McEnery Wednesday night delivered a speech explaining his vote for the Dingley bill. He claims sugar is protected one-fourth less than by the Wilson bill. Senator Coffey's friends may call on him for speeches, and there is a chance of a democratic split in Louisiana.

EXCITEMENT IN CRETE. The Powers Get Ready to Resist Turkish Aggression in the Island.

Canea, Crete, Aug. 5.—Upon receipt of the news that the Turkish squadron from the Dardenelles was coming into these waters the foreign warships got up steam and the international troops on shore have taken measures to anticipate any possible complications. The report and these preparations have greatly excited the Mussulmans. The admirals of the international fleet have decided to oppose by force if necessary the entry of the Turkish squadron into Cretan waters. In view of the possible arrival of the squadron a French warship has been dispatched to Sicily, an Italian man-of-war to Suda bay, an Austrian to Castelli and a Russian to Retimo.

Two Killed at a Crossing.

Middletown, N. Y., Aug. 5.—A combined observation car and locomotive, bearing E. Canfield, the general superintendent, and Charles H. Hopkins, the superintendent of the southern division of the New York, Ontario & Western railroad, struck a wagon containing John Maulick and his wife and six children. The accident took place at the Hollywood highway crossing. Wagon and occupants were hurled forty feet upon an embankment over the rocky bed of the Willowemoc river. One of the children was instantly killed, another died soon after the accident and other members of the family are not expected to survive.

West Helped by Heavy Rains.

Omaha, Neb., Aug. 5.—Reports received at the general headquarters of the various railroads operating in the state report terrific rains in all parts of the state. In many localities the fall assumed the proportions of a deluge and beat down corn and much small grain. The flood of water is admitted to settle the question of Nebraska crops. The flood extended into Kansas on the south, Colorado on the west and South Dakota on the north. Not a county in the state escaped the deluge, though it was much more severe in some sections than others.

Indians Put on War Paint.

Ardmore, I. T., Aug. 5.—Horace Gibson, a stockman just in from near the Indian reservation, reports the Kiowa and Comanche Indians putting on war paint, and says an uprising of the Indians is feared. Gibson says the Indians are greatly stirred up over the death of their chief, Qunah Parker, and will not be pacified. It is unsafe, he says, for whites to enter the reservation. There are between 8,000 and 10,000 Indians on this reservation, but they are poorly armed, so far as is known. There is believed to be about one gun to every thirty Indians.

No Indemnity for Transvaal.

London, Aug. 5.—B. F. Hawkesley, counsel for Cecil Rhodes, in an interview declared that the reports circulated by the Morning Post of this city to the effect that Mr. Rhodes and Alfred Beit, the former resident director at Cape Town of the British South Africa Company, had personally paid the Transvaal government £250,000, as indemnity for the raid of Dr. L. S. Jameson and his followers into the Transvaal in December, 1895, is "all nonsense."

For an Oil Trust in Japan.

Washington, Aug. 5.—Consul Monaghan at Chemnitz writes the state department that Germany is turning its attention to the oil territory in Japan and that an effort is being made at Tokyo to organize a syndicate similar to the Standard Oil company or the Russian trust for the purpose of increasing production. It is also said that oil has been found in large quantities in Formosa.

THE SCALE SIGNED BY THE EMPLOYERS

ILLINOIS STEEL COMPANY AGREES TO TERMS.

One Hundred Men Have Returned to Work—Some Departments Will Remain Closed For Some Time to Come—Concession Made By the Employes.

Milwaukee, Wis., Aug. 5.—The Illinois Steel company has signed the amalgamated scale regulating work in the top and bottom mill. One hundred men have returned to work in this mill. The other departments, with the exception of the new reduction mill, will remain idle for an indefinite period. The men concede a 15 per cent reduction in the wages of rollers, heaters, roughers and helpers and the company conceded that the men work under tonnage scale instead of by the day.

FRANCE LOOKS FOR FAVORS.

Thinks This Country Will Grant Her 20 Per Cent Tariff Reduction.

Paris, Aug. 5.—The Gaulois publishes an interview with the minister of commerce, M. Boucher, in which he is quoted as declaring that it "should not for a moment be doubted that President McKinley will spontaneously grant to France 20 per cent tariff reduction, as permitted by the Dingley bill."

M. Boucher is reported to have added: "It is of course only on the condition that France will continue to grant the United States the customs concessions arranged as a quid pro quo for the economic advantages which have now disappeared."

Congress of Women.

Brussels, Aug. 5.—Under the auspices of the Belgian League of Woman's Rights a largely attended international congress of women opened Wednesday. All the European countries are represented. The congress will continue for four days and will deal almost entirely with matters relating to the social and civil rights of the sex. Special attention will be given to the question of securing legislation by which the savings of a married woman may be held separate from her husband's estate, while a number of papers will be read upon the rights of children born out of wedlock to a share in the property left by their fathers.

Yellow Fever on War Ships.

Washington, Aug. 5.—In his last report to the surgeon general of the marine hospital service, Dr. Bruner, sanitary inspector for the service at Havana, dwells upon the probability of a rapid increase of yellow fever among the Spanish sailors. He says that up to recent date there were no cases among the sailors of the Spanish navy, but that lately several have appeared. He attributed this to the fact that some of the war ships have gone to the navy yard, which is in close proximity to the military hospital, and the Tallipodra wharf, which is in bad condition.

Hundred Bridges Destroyed.

Castle Rock, Col., Aug. 5.—A cloudburst caused the most serious flood ever known in this country. Plum Creek became a raging torrent in a few minutes, and not less than a hundred bridges on that stream and its tributaries were washed away. The Denver & Rio Grande and Santa Fe Railway companies suffered some damage to tracks and other property, not, however, of a serious nature, nor sufficient to interfere with regular train service. The damage to wagon bridges and roads will cost the county several thousand dollars.

To Keep Out American Wheels.

Washington, Aug. 5.—Consul-General de Kay at Berlin writes to the state department at some length concerning the efforts that are being made in Germany to prevent the importation and sale of American bicycles in that country. Several schemes have been devised and the probabilities are that increased tariff rates to be imposed in some form will be adopted to carry out the desire of the Germans. Mr. de Kay also suggests that some international plan should be adopted to protect American bicycle trade-marks in Germany.

Forced to Winter at Dyea.

Portland, Ore., Aug. 4.—John H. Smith of Portland, United States commissioner for Alaska, writing from Juneau, says: "There are 500 people now at Dyea waiting to get over the pass, and there are several more steamer loads on the way. The Indian packers and the pack animals have all the freight they can carry to the lakes by the time winter sets in, and hundreds of people will be camping at Dyea and on the lakes all winter, eating the provisions they have taken with them. Prices for packing across the pass have risen to 25 and 27 cents per pound and the packers are independent at that."

Ex-State Senator Killed.

Independence, Kan., Aug. 5.—Dan McTaggart, ex-state senator from Montgomery county and prominent as a Republican politician, was shot and killed at McTaggart's mill, near Liberty, by Henry Shessley, lessee of the mill. ## FARMER IS FLEECE BY CREAMERY MEN

STATE LAW IS NOT FAIR TO PRODUCERS.

Protects Creamery Proprietors, But Not Men Who Furnish Milk—
Dairy Commissioner Acts—State
Authorities Offer to See Whether Babcock Tests Are Manipulated.

The whole scope of the dairy and food laws of the state is directed to the possibly dishonest, patron of creameries and cheese factories, but the fact has developed that there are in the state dishonest managers of butter and cheese factories against whom the patrons need protection. The Babcock milk test is used in practically all factories using milk as the raw material, and upon the basis of the butter fat contained in the milk furnished by patrons as disclosed by this test the payment is made. But the test is wholly in the hands of the managers of the factory or creamery. It is possible for these tests to be wrongfully recorded and a man not get credit for milk furnished. For instance, one patron disclosed to the dairy and food department the fact that his milk had been scheduled at 3.8 per cent. butter fat spring, summer and fall. This is an impossibility, as the percentage of butter fat in the milk of the same cow at different seasons of the year is very marked.

Tests Not Correct.

Upon the attention of the commissioner being directed to this incident, the factory was inspected with an especial view to ascertain the honesty of the manager in making his tests and it was found that he was uniformly robbing his patrons by underestimating the amount of butter fat disclosed by the Babcock test. How long he had practiced this is not known, but the disclosure resulted in his business being lost to him through the refusal of patrons to longer furnish milk.

There is no specific remedy in the law for a situation such as this, and the aggrieved patron is without state aid to prosecute the dishonest factory man, while factory man has the machinery of the dairy and food commissioner's department to guard his interest by watching the milk as it comes to the factory. Dairy and Food Commissioner Adams, Expert Chadwick and State Chemist Mitchell say they are willing at all times to disclose to patrons of factories the results of tests, or to test any factory at any time and give to the patrons the result of those tests for comparison with the test of the managers, and by this means it can be ascertained whether the persons furnishing the milk are obtaining their full return.

Test Is of Value.

The Babcock test and the consequent simplifying of the process of determining the amount of butter fat in milk was of great value to dairymen in giving to the person furnishing the richest milk proportionately increased pay for his product, but by the use of the test only at the factory it has been made possible for dishonest men to steal, with but little chance of their being found out. The attitude of the dairy and food department, since its attention has been directed to this possibility, has been toward a vigilance over factory managers as well as patrons that cannot result otherwise than to the advantage of honest dairymen.

COMPANY IS FORMED TO MAKE THE SHOE

PUT B. F. SLATER'S INVENTION ON THE MARKET.

Capital Stock Is $25,000 and a Chicago Man Is the President of the Corporation—Manufacturers Are Interested in the Article and Make Many Inquiries.

The Slater Patent Shoe Company was incorporated in the city yesterday and the proper papers were filed under the laws of the state of Wisconsin.

The company has been capitalized at $25,000 and the following officers have been elected:

President—J. Y. Lamer, Chicago.

Vice President—B. F. Slater, Janesville.

At a special meeting to be held in this city next Saturday, other officers will be elected and the formation of the company completed. The forming of this company may mean much to the city of Janesville and chances are bright for the starting of a factory in this city. The patentee is B. F. Slater, the senior member of the Globe Shoe company, and the invention to be made consists of a patent side lacing that makes a shoe fit almost perfectly. The leading shoe manufacturers of the country have been interested, and are making inquiries as to when the makers would place this article on the market. The local shoe manufacturing firm of Richardson & Norcross have contracted with the Slater company to manufacture their shoes and expect to begin work at once on a large scale.

Vice President Slater said to a Gazette man that the greater portion of the $25,000 capital has been taken by Chicago parties who have only interested themselves in the matter after a most careful investigation into the merits of the patent. Mr. Slater expects to leave on an extended trip in the east within the next few days for the purpose of placing the invention before the eastern people.

The articles of incorporation were filed with Register of Deeds O. D. Rowe yesterday. The incorporators are B. F. Slater, S. G. Stannard and J. H. Arthur.

SOME STATE NEWS NOTES.

THE VALLEY OF THE SHADOW

Miss Katie Rose.

Miss Kate E. Rose, youngest daughter of Nathaniel M. and Nancy L. Rose, died at the home of her parents, at Rock River, July 27, 1897. She was born at Rock River, June 1, 1880, and at her death was in the seventeenth year of her age.

She was a person well liked by all who knew her; of a firm christian character, a solace to those in trouble, a help to those in need, a gentle, kind, and of a retiring disposition. She was one of the few exceptions to be found who are always cheerful and happy, and by whose happy spirit others are led to enjoy life.

Called away at a period of life when she was just entering upon a practical existence in the world, she had not tasted any of its bitter sorrows, which are so freely mixed with the blessings of life, and had not had the sad experience which a life of activity often brings upon spirits of such a sensitive turn.

Though not enrolled on any church book, there rests a firm conviction in the minds of those who know her that she belonged to the church of God, and she has signified her desire to unite with the church of her people, the S. D. B. church at Rock River.

THE WEEKLY CROP REPORT

The Weather Has Been Very Favorable the Experts Say

The weather during the past week has continued favorable with a generally good distribution of rainfall, except in the northern section of the state, and crops have continued to make good progress. The rain during the night of the 31st covered nearly the whole of the middle and southern sections, but was the heaviest in the central counties, Milwaukee receiving 2.10 inches, Vernon county 2.75 and Adams county 2.00. This rain was of great benefit to pastures, which were commencing to get short, but delayed harvest to some extent and lodged oats and buckwheat. Spring wheat is in good condition, indications as to the quality of the crop remaining practically unchanged, and a very good yield is expected. There is less complaint of chinch bugs than last week, undoubtedly due to the showery weather, which is a very potent factor in reducing their numbers.

The rain of the 25th covered nearly the entire state and in some localities was quite heavy. Haying, except on lowlands and where delayed by rains, is generally completed. Some complaint of rust and smut on late-sown oats. Early-sown oats nearly all in the shock; good crop. Rye is being stacked. Prospects for the potato crop are not so promising, as the bugs have been very troublesome and blight has appeared in a number of places, especially affecting the early varieties. Pastures are in very good condition. Corn is progressing nicely and is tasseling and clearing out. Early potatoes are being dug for immediate use. Tobacco is still making excellent progress and harvest will begin in some portions of the southern section in a few days.

The Best of All.

Anxious Mother—Well, Bobby, and how did you behave at the party?
Bobby—Oh, Mummy, I didn't behave at all. I was quite good!—Punch.

Hard to Please.
The son of a well-known Providence lawyer came home at the end of the first term in college exulting in the fact that he stood next to the head of his class. His father was less easily satisfied. "What! Next to the head?" he exclaimed. "What do you mean, sir? I'd like to know what you think I send you to college for! Next to the head, indeed! Humph! I'd like to know why you aren't at the head, where you ought to be!" The young man was naturally crestfallen, but upon his return to college he went about his work with such ambition that the end of the term found him in the coveted place. He went home very proud indeed. It was great news. The lawyer contemplated his son for a few moments in silence; then, with a shrug of his shoulders, he remarked: "At the head of the class, eh? Humph! That's a fine commentary on Brown university."—Youth's Companion.

Ahead of Boston.
"I never before realized what a grand and glorious country you have out here," said Mr. Esthet to Miss Alkalie, the belle of a Montana town. "What glorious expanses of prairie! what life and health and strength in the air! What cerulean blue in the sky above! What lights and shadows as the sun goes down behind the western hills! What tints of rose paling into soft purple touched with amber! Is it not exquisite, Miss Alkalie?" "Yes," she replied softly; "that's right. We can knock the socks off of Boston when it comes to sunsets."

How Big Your Feet Should Be.
It is quite easy to tell if your feet are the proper size. Every person, unless deformed, has a bone of the exact normal length of the foot, and by comparison the largeness or smallness of the foot can be seen. The foot in length should be the length of the ulna a bone in the forearm, which extends from the lump in the outer portion of the wrist to the elbow.

The Cause of the Trouble.
"Wires ain't working," said the operator tersely. "Can't take your message." "What's the matter? Storm?" demanded the man with the message. "Worse than that," replied the operator. "What?" "Just received a cablegram in Russian and it has twisted the wires all out of shape."—Washington Star.

The Ruling Passion.
"That man Finesse is the most ardent whist player I ever saw."
"That's right. When Gabriel blows the final horn you can bet that Finesse will take it for a trump signal."—Cleveland Plain Dealer.

Satisfactorily Explanation.
"They say that Batch hasn't a dollar to his name." "That must be the reason he has never been able to get any woman to accept it."—Cincinnati Enquirer.

"Bicycle, a Pile of Fun."
The subjoined amusing item is said to be an order sent by a Kansas man to a bicycle company:

"Dear sirz—I live on mi farm near Hamilton, Kansas, am 57 year old and just a little sporta. My newffew in Indiana bot hisself a new bisicle and sent me his old one by frate, and ive learned to ride sume. Its a pile of fun, but my bisicle jols considerable. A feller come along yesterday with a bisicle that had holler injun robber tires stuffed with wind. He let me try hissen, and mi, it run like a kushin! He told me you sell injun robber just the same as hissen. How much will it be to fix mine up like hissen? Mine is all iron wheels. Do you punch the holler hole through the injun robber, or will I have to do it myself? How do you stick the ends together after you get it done? If your injun robber is already holler will it come any cheaper empty? I can get all the wind I want out here in Kansas free.

"EBERNEEZER Y. JENSON.
"P. S.—How much do you charge for the doodad you stuff the wind into the robber with and where do you start?"—American Field.

The Highest Bridge.

The highest bridge of any kind in the world is said to be the Leo river viaduct on the Antofagasta railway, in Bolivia, South America. The place where this highest railway structure has been erected is over the Mo's rapids in the upper Andes, and is between the two sides of a canon which is situated 10,000 feet from the level of the Pacific. From the surface of the stream to the level of the rails this celebrated bridge is exactly 636 1/2 feet in height, the length of the principal span is 30 feet, and the distance between the abutments is 862 feet. The gauge of the road is 2 feet 6 inches and the trains cross the bridge at a speed of 30 miles an hour.

How to Make Money.
A company drilled a well near Elwood, Ind., and plugged it up, refusing to tell anybody what had been found. Immediately all the farm lands in the neighborhood began to sell at fabulous figures. We wonder if the company which plugged the well owned those farm lands. Whether it did or not there's a hint in the story of a way to make money out of farm lands these hard times.—Buffalo Express.

1777—Battle of Oriskany.
1862—General Thomas Williams was killed in the battle of Baton Rouge while leading a charge; born in New York 1815.

GOLD DEMOCRATS GAINING.

Gold democrats have not wavered in their opposition to Bryanism and clipped dollars. Moreover, all the political events of the year have been in their favor and have betokened their triumph over the silver wing. In the spring election in Michigan they cast 30,000 votes, against less than 7,000 for Palmer last year. The Kentucky gold democrats are in strong fighting array, and expect to poll 50,000 votes for their distinct state ticket. A similar ticket has been nominated in Iowa and will be vigorously pushed. Ohio gold democrats will support a separate ticket, and think it will receive many thousand votes, especially of democrats who supported McKinley as a matter of prudence. In Massachusetts the silver democrats control the party machinery, but a multitude of gold democrats laugh at their antics in that sound money state. Mr. Gorman has just put forth a remarkable straddling platform in Maryland in the hope that he may be returned to the senate. The platform is plainly an abandonment of free coinage of silver at 16 to 1. No mention is made of the old ratio. Bimetallism is advocated, with redemption in gold and silver, but the ratio is left blank. This will not suit a Bryanite. Gorman has conceded that the gold democrats are too strong and resolute to be approached again with free silver.

The increasing strength of the gold democrats is a source of satisfaction to republicans.

There must be at least two parties, and republicans prefer a respectable antagonist, and one not unpatriotic when it comes to the point. With the value of a dollar rightly settled the gold democrat becomes simply a democrat again, and other controversies can be settled at the polls without a menace to national good faith.

Silver's drop to the lowest price on record was unpleasant, but not entirely unexpected. The United States is the largest silver producing country in the world and is therefore interested in its price to a greater extent than any other country. Falling off in the demand from India and China is thought to have been the cause of the fall in price. The American farmer will be glad to note that wheat continues to rise in price, showing that its price is not in any sense controlled by the price of silver, as the Bryanites have continually asserted it was.

By way of London comes the news that the government of Spain would gladly welcome any excuse to declare war against the United States, although it fully recognizes that the war would mean the loss of Cuba and a thorough licking for Spain. This wizeacre asserts that the monarchy of Spain has got to fight, if not outsiders, then Spaniards.

The abuse of the Dingley tariff by Americans returning from Europe, because it compels them to pay duty upon new clothing in excess of $100 in value which they bring with them, will make more friends than enemies for the new law. Why should those who make their money here buy clothes in Europe?
No wonder the country smiles every time it thinks of the million bushels of wheat we will send to Europe this year, and of the price we'll get for it. Still there are democrats who persist in denying the arrival of prosperity.

It is estimated that the profits of the Kansas farmers will this year exceed $100,000,000. The calamity howlers have heard about it, and have become speechless.

Cleveland isn't likely to be asked to take the stump in Maryland for Boss Gorman, and if he was his "no" would be thunderous.

When one remembers that "hard times" are the only times when the democratic party thrives much is explained.

Not Progressive.

"No New York fireman is allowed to flirt under any circumstances," he said, looking up from his paper. "They have the strictest kind of rules against it and the penalty is very severe."
"There!" she exclaimed. "If that isn't proof I don't know what is."
"Proof of what?" he demanded.
"Proof that man is not progressive," she answered. "No such absurd and unjust rule as that could exist five minutes if woman were in control."—Chicago Post.

He Ought to Know.

"Mr. Giggins says that he doesn't read poetry," remarked the impressionable young woman.
"Desi't he like rhyme?"
"No. He says there is only one poem in the English language worth reading."
"What is that?"
"It has never been printed yet. He wrote it himself."—Washington Star.

The Dame's Retort.

"Those people next door lead a sort of hand-to-mouth existence, don't they?" said the president of the Helping Hand to the Worthy Poor Sewing and Mission society.
"No," responded the good dame addressed. They're awful poor, but I guess they know enough to handle forks properly."—Detroit News.

Drummer Boy of 1812 Is Dead.

New York, Aug. 5.—Lieut. Michael Moore, one of the last survivors of the soldiers of the war of 1812, is dead in Brooklyn, aged 97 years. He enlisted as a drummer boy in 1812, and was with his regiment at the capture of Fort George in 1814. Immediately on the conclusion of the war he re-enlisted.

The Eye's Travels in Reading.

There seems to be no end to the labor a statistician will undergo to pile up a lot of figures. Now comes a patient Frenchman with figures that assume to tell the distance traveled by the eye in reading printed matter. He calculates that 1,000,000 letters of the ordinary type used in newspapers, placed in close juxtaposition, extend over 1,500 metres, somewhat less than a mile. But, according to his reckoning, there is not more than 1,100 yards of reading matter in the average issue of a Parisian daily. Within the cover of the familiar yellow-backed novel will as a rule be found double that amount, and in order to cover the ground which is represented by all of M. Zola's works the eye would have to perform a journey of more than thirty miles. An average man, living for the average period of human life, may be calculated to get through about 2,500 miles of reading before his task is done.

What Johnny Wished.

From Babyhood: Little Johnny was in tribulation one morning; prohibitions great and small, met him at every turn. It was "no" to this and "no" to that, till at last he began to cry, angrily exclaiming to his mother, between sobs: "I wish 'no' was a swear word, mamma, so you couldn't say it!"

Broker Chapman.

Washington Star: The luxury with which Broker Chapman's room is to be fitted at the jail promises to be such that the only way for him to appreciate the gravity of his position will be to take a walk in the yard now and then and look at the building.

Brown—Lend me $5, will you?
Jones—I most certainly will not.
Brown—All right. You're not the only pebble on the beach.

PUNCHED HIS WIFE AND WENT TO JAIL

MILTON AVENUE COUPLE AIR
THEIR TROUBLES

Woman Had Two Black Eyes, But Repented When Her Husband Appeared In Court, and They Left the Hall of Justice Together—Defendant Paid Costs.

If Mrs. Mary Knoff had been a little bit more careful with her spending money, says her husband, she would not today, be the wearer of two black eyes.

Mrs. Knoff, on the other hand, says that if her husband had not acted the way he did, he would not have had to spend the night in jail.

And there you are. In the municipal court this morning Mr. and Mrs. Knoff aired their troubles, which proved to be of a family nature. They have been married several years and have been residing on the Austin place on Milton avenue. Late yesterday afternoon Mrs. Knoff came to town, and told the police that her husband had struck her in the face and otherwise cruelly treated her. Nothing but his arrest would soothe her feeling, so armed with a warrant Under Sheriff Wallace Cochran rode out on Milton avenue found his man, and landed behind the bars.

When brought into court today the prisoner at once pleaded not guilty. Before the trial had progressed very far, Mrs. Knoff said that she had changed her mind about prosecuting him, and that if her husband would pay the costs in the case, she would drop it. She further stated that if he would "brace up" and be a man, she would return and live with him, but not a step would she go unless he lives up to the agreement. Then Mr. Knoff paid the costs, a total of $1.20, which included a 99 cent witness fee which went to his wife, and they left the court room together.

Emmett Welsh Fined $15
"Don't say fresh fish to me" yelled Emmett Welsh to aged George Saving, as the old man was crying the sale of his fish on South River street yesterday afternoon, and before the old man realized the situation Welsh had knocked him down.

This morning, in the municipal court, Welsh was found guilty of assault and battery and was fined $15 and costs or a total of $19.70. In default of payment, he went to jail for twenty days, unless the fine is soon paid. Chief, Hogan, who made the arrest, told the court this morning that Welsh's parents seemed to have no control over him and the boy seemed to have no occupation. When Welsh assaulted Saving yesterday, Dr. Geo. H. McCauley, who was standing near, gave chase to the culprit and had him cornered when the police arrived. The plaintiff in the case has been selling Lake Koshkonong fish here for years.

Charged With Stealing.
The case of the State of Wisconsin vs. James Miller was called in the municipal court this afternoon, the defendant having been arrested today charged with larceny. Herman Kath, the complaining witness, says that Miller stole a saddle and bridle from him valued at $6.50 and disposed of them at Arnold's second hand store. Attorney John Groestbeck is representing the defendant and District Attorney Jackson is prosecuting.

Says His Horse Is Stolen.
Farmer Terwilliger, who resides near Emerald Grove sent his hired man to town yesterday to report to the police the theft of one of his valuable horses that some one, he says, took from his barn at night. The animal was so locked in that it was almost impossible for the animal to get loose and wander away.

Herman's Case Put Over.
Frank Herman, who was arrested last month, charged with illegal peddling liquor in the town of Magnolia, was before the municipal court this afternoon, and his case was adjourned until October.

F. C. BURPEE AS A POLICEMAN

Conquered the Man Who Smote Him Heavily in the Neck.

F. C. Burpee is eligible to the police force, having made his record yesterday. Chief Hogan had two unruly gentlemen in tow yesterday, and called upon Mr. Burpee to hold one of them for a moment. Mr. Burpee laid hold of the man, and the man smote the school commissioner heavily on the neck. Before the arrested party realized what was up, however, the school commissioner had given him a left hook on the jaw that made his eyes stick out. The arrested party then declared that he was ready to go to jail, and Chief Hogan having secured a grip on his coat collar in the meantime, he went.

BAN ON CIGARETTES BY CIGAR DEALERS

MERCHANTS DISCOURAGE THE SALE AND USE.

Raise the Price on the Most Popular Brand in Order to Reduce Consumption of the Foul Smelling "Coffin Nails"—Nearly All Sign the Agreement.

Janesville cigar dealers, restaurant keepers, druggists and saloonists, aimed a blow at "the deadly cigarette" today, when they signed an agreement to discourage the sale and use of the "coffin nails," by raising the price to a sum at which, it is thought, the sales will be small. The following agreement was circulated, and signed by all but two of the firms selling cigarettes in this city. The heads of these firms were out of town today, but it is said that they will sign on their return. The agreement is as follows:

We, the undersigned retail dealers in cigar tobacco, etc., for the purpose of discouraging the sale of cigarettes, and the use thereof, hereby respectively agree that in the future we will sell no "Sweet Caporal" cigarettes to any person for a price less than eight (8) cents per package for single packages, or fifteen (15) cents for two packages, if sold to the same person. In case of a violation of this agreement by any of the signers thereof, or by any one in their employ, the person guilty of such violation, or in whose place of business said violation is committed, shall pay a penalty of $10 for each and every offense, to be donated to the Associated Charities. [Signed]

"Why do you name one particular brand?" a dealer was asked.

"Because that is the only brand of which any considerable number is sold," he replied.

"We mean business. Cigar men do not like to sell cigarettes any more than they like to have people around who smoke them," was the way another dealer put it.

INVENTS BICYCLE BEARING

Spencer H. Phelps Gets Up a Perfect Piece of Mechanism

Spencer H. Phelps, the well known pattern maker, has invented a ball bearing for bicycles that is different from anything now in use. The bearing is equipped with two rows of balls which work against each other as well as against the ball races. Thus friction is greatly reduced, and the bearing is no larger than the old style. Mr. Phelps will have the bearing put on his wheel for a trial.

THRESHING CREWS ARE BUSY

Many Farmers Are Not Stacking Their Grain At All.

Owners of threshing machines are kept on the jump these days. Few of the farmers are stacking their grain, the great majority threshing directly from the shock, avoiding danger of loss from stacks getting soaked and rotting. The straw on oats is very short this year and the men on the straw piles of the threshers have light work, while the grain handlers are kept rushing.

BURGLARS RAIDED MURRAY'S MARKET

UNSKILLED THIEVES WORK
LAST NIGHT.

Forced the Transom Over the Rear Door, Break Into the Cash Drawer and Steal a Small Amount of Money—Police Think Local Talent Did the Job.

Unskilled burglars made another raid last night.

This time they entered W. A. Murray's meat market, and escaped with $1.25 in small change.

Murray's market is located at 155 West Milwaukee street. When the place was opened this morning, it was found that thieves had been there during the night. They had effected an entrance by forcing the transom over the rear door. The screen was then cut, and the robbers climbed through into the store. The money drawer was forced with a cleaver, the work was broken and marred. There was no money to speak of in the till, the robbers securing but $1.25 to reimburse them for taking chances of getting a job at Waupun. Mr. Murray took his money home with him last night, and it was a good thing that he did. The robbers left via the rear door, leaving it open. They reached the transom by standing on a box. The police say amateurs did the work.

TRAIN LOADED WITH PEOPLE

Big Crowd Went to the Dells on an Excursion Today.

Five hundred and seventy people arrived in Janesville this morning via the St. Paul road, in ten well filled coaches, being on their way to the Dells of the Wisconsin for a day's outing. The train started this morning from Mineral Point, and was under the personal management of District Passenger Agent W. W. Heafford, which meant that the comfort of the party was well looked after. The Shullsburg K. P. band was aboard, and the crowd seemed to be a jolly and good natured one.

COMMON SENSE CURE

Pyramid Pile Cure Cures Piles Permanently by Curing the Cause.

Remarkable Remedy Which is Bringing Comfort to Thousands of Sufferers.

Probably half the people who see this article suffer from piles. It is one of the commonest diseases and one of the most obstinate. People have it for years and just because it is not immediately fatal they neglect it. Carelessness causes no end of suffering. Carelessness about so simple a thing as piles has often caused death. Hemorrhages occur from no apparent cause and loss of blood causes death. Hemorrhages occur during surgical treatment, often causing death.

Piles are simple in the beginning and easily cured. They can be cured even in the worst stages, without pain or loss of blood, quickly, surely and completely. There is only one remedy that will do it—Pyramid Pile Cure.

It allays the inflammation immediately, heals the irritated surface and with continued treatment reduces the swelling and puts the membranes into good, sound, healthy condition. The cure is thorough and permanent.

Woman's World.

Mrs. Charles Hazen Russell has become the focal point of interest to the friends and patrons of Wells college. The culminating act which brings Mrs. Russell's name so prominently forward is her election by the alumnae as a trustee of the college. Mrs. Russell's career since her graduation from Wells as the valedictorian of her class has been marked by that steady intellectual growth and that expanding and deepening influence in society which make the college girl the ideal as well as the practical woman of today. Mrs. Russell was the first president of the Eastern Association of Wells College, a position subsequently held by Mrs. Cleveland and to which Mrs. Russell was re-elected four years ago, holding the office up to the present time. She devotes most of her spare time to literary work, and her translations from German romantic literature have appeared in print from time to time, although she has but little impulse to publish, and much of her best work is given to the literary societies of which she is a leading member. Sorensen elected Mrs. Russell to membership in 1892 and soon after appointed her chairman of the committee on education. In this club, as in others, she has shown her talent for marshaling opponents in debate and setting the subject incisively before them. Her style is subtle in thought, but clear and convincing in expression.

Mrs. Russell founded the Portia club of Brooklyn and is still its president. This club is devoted to the careful study of the best literature. Kosmos club of Brooklyn claims her as an active member, and Chirpeuch, modeled after Sorensen, owes much to her influence and guidance.

Mrs. Russell was much interested in the Federation of Women's Clubs and is the representative in the federation of several societies. Among the honors lately paid her is an invitation to deliver in St. Lawrence university a course of lectures on English literature. This will probably be among her first duties in the fall, on her return from Europe, where she is spending the summer. Interested as Mrs. Russell appears in literary and club life, there is no place where she shines as effectively as in her own home, making the house of her husband, the Hon. Charles Hazen Russell, the center of a large and brilliant social circle and at the same time the most restful and comfortable of homes. It is the rounded and harmonious development of her nature in so many directions which makes Mrs. Russell a remarkable woman and fits her to be the representative and model of the college woman of today.—New York Times.

Healthy, Happy Children.

A woman whose four rosy, sun-tanned children are the envy of her neighbors down on Long Island gives this recipe for health and peace of mind: "Buy enough of checked blue gingham to make each child half a dozen big aprons, not the little ornamental, useless sort, but great big envelopes, such as the French school children wear. Let them wear these all day long, and don't complain if they soil them. Dirt, the kind that flowers flourish in and that vegetables thrive in, will not hurt the most delicate child living, but constant scolding about dirty clothes will wear out any child's nerves and spoil all his enjoyment. Also have a few loose sunbonnets on hand. Of course the boys won't wear them, but the girls are much better with this pretty, cool, light headgear, for it is a safeguard from sunstroke."—Exchange.

Firework Foulard.

"Firework" foulard, or foulard silk with a sort of lightning or firework effect over the colored surface, is the novelty of the moment. It is being worn on all occasions, and some of these gowns, with their sharply contrasted trimmings, are startling in their brilliance. Then there are the grenadines and canvases and silk muslins, all worn over the very brightest colors, and yet the more expensive gowns are so skillfully managed that the lion and the lamb appear to lie down together in harmony. Even erize, which resists all amateur attempts at concealment with other colors, is made by the deft manipulation of the skilled fingers of the modiste to mingle its bright note melodiously with the rest.

Song Birds in Hats.

By an act of the legislature which became a law July 11 any woman wearing in Massachusetts the feathers or body of any of our song birds in her bonnet or hat subjects herself to a penalty of $10. In effect the act is as follows: "Whoever has in his possession the body or feathers of any wild or undomesticated bird, except game birds, English sparrows, crow blackbirds, crows, jays, birds of prey or wild geese, or who wears such feathers for the purpose of dress or ornament, shall be punished by a fine of $10."

THE MODERN VIRTUE.

Cleanliness of Our Ancestors and What We May Come To.

A French writer remarks, with more truth than poetry, that our ancestors had a horror of water—that is, for the purpose of bathing. Clothed in purple and fine linen, decked with jewels and curled and powdered to perfection, they were yet, to our present idea, no cleaner than they should be and made up in perfumes what they lacked in soap and water. It was not until toward the end of the eighteenth century that sea bathing was adopted, although the use of fresh water in private had become less of a novelty than formerly. The portraits of many highborn dames and cavaliers of long gone days show a black rim to the delicate finger nails, thus innocently evincing in how matter of course a way dirt was regarded in those days. It is a pity that trifles should be able to destroy one's most poetical illusions, but it is highly probable that if we people of today could look back upon the knights and ladies of the days of chivalry our sense of romance would suffer serious damage from the perception that they did not wash themselves with sufficient frequency.

Cleanliness is of course simply a relative term. Although now everybody bathes and indulges in the luxury of tooth and nail brushes and soap, chemists tell us that we are still groping in the dark as regards real cleanliness, and that only a course of acids and other chemicals terrifying to think of will make us really clean. Perhaps several hundred years from now posterity will regard us with disgust because we are personally so untidy.

A picture is given of a gown for a girl 10 years old. It is of pale pink mousseline de laine, the skirt being trimmed around the foot with two bands of white guipure. The blouse bodice is draped in front at the left shoulder and has a yoke of white guipure. Coquilles of guipure conceal the closing at the left side, and white satin bows are placed on the shoulders. The close sleeves have full epaulets of guipure, and the belt is of white satin. The hat of black straw is trimmed with pale pink ribbon.

SUMMER COLORS.

Blue Promises to Be the Fashionable Color. Other Charming Shades.

Light gray, lilac, mauve, water green of divers tones and all shades of light blue, sky blue and lavender are now in style, associated with the white of gauze or mousseline de soie. In fact, the liking for blue is an increasing one, as well for millinery as for gowns. Blue promises to prevail, as purple and green have prevailed. Next in favor will come gray, lightened and brightened with blue or rose. Blue is not, unfortunately, a universally becoming color. It requires a clear and reasonably fair complexion, but when the fashion is concerned few women care whether a color or style is becoming or not. This is a mistake, but many mistakes of more importance are made in this world.

Materials of both silk and wool are seen in a great variety of combinations of black and white. Checks and stripes are special favorites in foulards and taffetas, being employed for whole costumes or for bodices alone. Gowns of mixed silk and lace also show the black and white effect, chastity and black embroidered tulle being made over white silk and black mousseline de soie toiles being trimmed all over with narrow white or yellowish valenciennes. The mode still holds to the yellow tone in lace and tulle.

The illustration given today shows a striking hat of white straw. A full trimming of finely plaited white taffeta surrounds the brim and is brought high on the left side, where the brim is also turned up and held in place by an ornament composed of white egg plumes, faintly tinged with pink. These fall upon the hair. A box of white ostrich plumes is worn around the neck.

FASHION NOTES.

White Shoes, Stockings, Belts and Parasols. Jeweled Hooks and Buckles.

The fashionable rage for white this summer has extended to shoes and stockings as well as belts. Shoes of white kid are worn with light costumes, and white kid belts are favorites. It is unnecessary to say that these are only desirable when they are immaculately clean. Shoes of gray, ecru and brown linen are also seen and are very cool for hot weather.

Buttons are still much used for trimming, especially those made of cut steel or paste. The steel ones accompany all sorts of costumes, but the jeweled ones are only employed for very nice gowns. Enamelled buttons are largely used on light summer toiles.

White will continue to be fashionable all summer and into the autumn. It is becoming to nearly everybody and can be worn by everybody in some form or other. Where it does not compose the entire costume it may be used for the trimmings or accessories, a white hat and parasol accompanying well any gown and white lace or gauze decorations being equally adaptable.

The picture illustrates a dinner bodice of plaited straw mousseline de soie. It is made over a straw silk lining and has a deep yoke of straw mousseline de soie, embroidered with pink and red flowers. A double frill of straw mousseline de soie falls below the yoke and passes up the left side, which is ornamented with a brette of red velvet ribbon and bows of straw mousseline de soie, fastened by paste buckles. The collar and belt are of red velvet, and the close, shirred sleeves of straw mousseline have double plaited caps of the same material.

SUMMER WEAR.

Silver Gray Crepe de Chine—Colors For Different Complexions.

Accordion plaited petticoats are the newest thing in underwear. They are made of silk and are plaited throughout their length or have an accordion plaited flounce set on a yoke which extends half way down.

Costumes of silver gray crepe de chine or mousseline de soie are among this summer's novelties and are very dainty and attractive. They are saved from half mourning effect by the addition of carnations, red, pink or deep blue bows, choux and girle. It should be remembered that women without any pink coloring should never wear clear gray, either dark or light, as it gives them a faded look. Those fortunate enough to have pink cheeks look very well in it, whether they be fair or dark in general complexion. Of course an extremely red faced person cannot wear light gray any more than she can wear pale pink or turquoise blue or lavender, these delicate tints making the rubicund complexion seem deeper by contrast.

Ecru linen lawn, plain, embroidered, openworked, plaided and striped with silk threads, thick and thin, is more worn this summer than it was last. Ecru is again a great deal. In the sheer which it is often accordion plaited and is always made over a colored silk lining, which shows through with a charming effect. The lining ought to be of a rather decided tone in order to assert itself through the ecru lawn and not lose its character by being so veiled. Clear, light violet, strong pink, pronounced blue, scarlet, coral red, bright green and white are all good for lining tones, the latter with ecru mesh being perhaps the most refined and elegant. The trimmings—that is, the bows, choux, embroideries and girle—may be a little lighter than the lining, as they are not covered by anything.

The toilet illustrated is composed of a foulard having a white ground with mauve and pale green figures scattered upon it. The skirt shows an apron effect, front and back, given by three ruffles of mauve mousseline de soie, which are laid up near the sides. The blouse bodice of ecru foulard is mounted on a yoke of white gauze pure over mauve silk outlined by a bertha composed of three ruffles of mauve mousseline de soie and opens at the left side of the front. The close sleeves of ecru foulard have a slight fullness at the top, the wrist and collar frills being of white mousseline de soie. The collar is of mauve satin, as is also the belt, which is tied at the side.

FINE LINGERIE.

Washerwomen and Chemicals Make Underwear Costly and Fleeting.

In our grandmother's days it was a lady's pride to have stores of fine and carefully made underwear, and the stock which a woman laid in at her marriage was expected to and did last for many years, sometimes for all her life, but we have changed all that. Although machine work in stitching, embroidery and lace has brought pretty and delicate underwear within the reach of very modest purses, few women who have a limited income can afford to buy it because of the omnivorous and never glutted washerwoman and laundry, which literally devour all that they get into their clutches. It is the washing and not the wearing which ruins underwear, and a woman who would cheerfully pay $3 or $4 for a pretty nightgown or white petticoat, if she knew it would last, grudges $1 for a garment that experience has taught her will be in rags at the end of a dozen washings. Gnawing chemicals now do the work of conscientious hands, open air and sunlight, and nothing is more fleeting than the joy of a dainty outfit of lingerie.

Silk underwear, except in the form of ribbed underwear, has lost its brief vogue and is a good reminder, for its beauty is utterly destroyed by soap and water. Muslin, cambric, lawn and fine batiste are now preferred, and a great deal of tucking, lace and embroidery is used as a decoration, although plainer styles may be had in an equally fine quality. Petticoats retain the umbrella shape, with deep, full double and triple flounces, which are necessary in order to expand the foot of the dress skirt.

A picture is given of two nightgowns. The first is of white batiste, trimmed at the top with alternate clusters of tucking and bands of embroidered insertion. It has a turnover collar bordered by an embroidered ruffle and closes in front under a double frill of embroidery. The elbow sleeves are finished with a ruffle of embroidery, and a similar ruffle edges the foot of the skirt. The second nightgown, of nainsook, has a square yoke of bands of embroidered insertion framed by a ruffle of nainsook and embroidery. The square neck is without a collar and is finished by a narrow embroidered ruffle. The sleeves match the yoke, terminating in a wide ruffle. The gown closes at the left side.

The Puppy's Lament.

I'm a prisoner hard in a city back yard. I like it never a whit. 'Tis a burning shame, and the folks to blame Shall repent it after a bit.

They pat my head; I've a good, soft bed, Plenty of dinner to eat, But they don't let me go, and I'd like to know

Isn't liberty better than meat?

I race and chase every side of the place In vain attempts to get out, And all around I dig holes in the ground When the grass is beginning to sprout.

I chew flower roots and the tender shoots When the plants and shrubs come up, I've torn all the clothes—ah, the landress knows

'Tis wrong to imprison a pup!

There's a loud complaint that I've scratched the paint, And loosened the boards away, So today I'll commence to pull down the fence And hear what the folks will say.

When the yard's as flat as a wornout hat And I've chilled their souls with fear, Then those to blame for this cruel shame Will regret that they brought me here.

—Eva Lovett in Independent.

But the last request was not complied with.—Golden Days.

Willie Tells About the Giraffe.

The children had written compositions on the giraffe. They were reading them aloud to the class. At last the time came for little Willie Doran to read his. It was as follows:

"The giraffe is a dumb animal and cannot express itself by any sound, because its neck is so long its voice gets tired on its way to its mouth."—Chicago Record.

A Little More Cost Brings Big Profits.

The addressing, folding, inclosing, sea'ing and stamping of five thousand circulars, with postage, will cost at least $65, whether the circular is good or bad. Notwithstanding this fixed charge, some strive to save a dollar or two on the cost of printing, although the goods advertised are to be judged by the character of the printing, just as a house is judged by the character of its salesmen. Good printing costs but little more, and that "little more" brings greater returns than any other part of the cost. Order your printing where good work is assured.

A MILLION FOR CUBA.

The "Red, White and Blue League" Undertakes to Raise Money.

Leading Cuban revolutionists declare that they will be able to free their native island if they can get the money they require for munitions of war. Members of the junta in this city say one million dollars is needed for the campaign. The Cuban League of the United States has undertaken the task of raising the money. Berkeley Balch has been at work for the last fortnight to devise a plan for reaching sympathizers with the cause in every section of the country. The great point to be made was to reach the masses and to keep the expense of the collections as low as possible. Mr. Balch has finally perfected a scheme which has received the sanction of Col. Ethan Allen, president of the league, and an effort will be made to put it in operation as quickly as possible. The idea is explained at length in circulars, which will be sent to reliable persons in every section of the country. The letters contain cards. The cards pledge the payment of twenty-five cents a week for three months to the nearest depository of the league. It is intended to issue one million of these. If they are all taken and the money they represent is paid, three million dollars will be received. The red cards pledge a payment of five cents a week, and the children who sign them agree at the same time to see that their parents make regular payments on the blue cards. The white cards are for subscriptions to $5 and $10 bonds of the Cuban republic, to be paid for at par value.—N. Y. Herald.

The Danger.

"Beg pardon, sir, but are you acquainted with the editor of the Clarion?" asked a recently arrived tourist, who had just visited the printing office, and, not finding the editor in, was now seeking him on the streets of the settlement.

"I'd hate to think I wasn't," jocularly replied Alkali Ike, to whom the question was addressed.

"Ah! How does he look?"

"Tall, thin, gent, wearin' what you might call a thoughtful look, also a white hat an' a long-tailed coat. I noticed him a spell ago whirlin' down the street at a rate of speed that made the tails of that tar coat fly out behind him till you could have played poker on 'em if you could have kept up with him."

"Indeed," ejaculated the Easterner. "And what desperate danger caused him to run in that manner?"

"Well," responded Ike, "he'n' as he had a six-shooter in each hand an' was milkin' their contents right an' left at a passel of fitein' gents like a cabbage-raiser operatin' two sprinklin' cans, I reckon, most likely, that the danger was that some of his delinquent subscribers would git out of town without first comin' to the office an' settlin' their subscriptions, as they had promised."

Johnnie Exonerated.

Jennie Chaffie is musical much to the disgust of the neighbors. She pounds a piano by the hour. A few days ago while going through Johnnie's clothes Mrs. Chaffie unearthed a dime, which she suspected he had stolen from her, all of which Johnnie denied emphatically.

"Then tell me where you got that dime," she said earnestly.

"The neighbors gave it to me, and I am to get a quarter more."

"What did you do for it?"

"Nothin' yet, but I am to lock the piano and give them the key."—New York World.

Joy Versus Sorrow.

No human being can come into the world without increasing or diminishing the sum total of human happiness, not only of the present, but of every subsequent age of humanity. No one can detach himself from this connection. There is no sequestered spot in the universe, no dark niche along the disk of non-existence to which he can retreat from his relations to others, where he can withdraw his influence of his existence upon the moral destiny of the world; everywhere he will have companions who will be better or worse for his influence.

Didn't Look Quite So Old.

"I was born in '69," said the young lady with the pronounced shoulder blades, as she tapped him lightly with her fan; "see how candidly I 'fess up." "Surely not," said the young man with a surprised look. "Why, in '69 we were still colonies of Great-Oah, er—I beg pardon; perhaps you meant eighteen hundred—" But the frost had already chilled him to the vitals.

Honors for a Rock Island Girl.

The annual competition for the Henschel prize medal, held at the New England Conservatory of Music, in Boston, resulted in the selection of Miss Pauline Woltman of Rock Island, Ill., as the medalist of the class of '97. To receive this medal is considered the highest honor in the gift of the conservatory faculty to bestow.

Feminine Curiosity.

"That pretty young Mrs. Dawson is such a queer woman." "In what way?" "Every time I meet her in a bookstore she is buying a book which the critics have pronounced unfit for publication."

DAWSON'S CONQUEST.

He Was a Beautiful Example of Self-Control.

Things had gone his way down town and Dawson was in quite an amiable and even melting mood when he came home in the evening and settled himself for a quiet hour, with his cigar and book, says the New York World. Presently he said to his wife:

"Now, here's something that's got good sound sense to it. You listen to it: 'Real glory springs from the silent conquest of ourselves.' That's the talk! Give me the man who is master of himself. I have a perfect contempt for those unbalanced fellows who go all to pieces over nothing, and—Why, what's the matter with this lamp? It gives a miserable light."

"I guess it needs trimming," replied Mrs. Dawson.

"Why didn't you have it trimmed before night?"

"I didn't know that it needed trimming."

"I should think it was your place to know what condition the lamps are in."

"Humph! It's your place to know lots of things you don't know. If you'd known, as a man ought to know, the condition of the drainage pipes on his own grounds, we wouldn't have had that sickness last spring."

"Oh, there you go and bring up those infernal old drainage pipes," howled the convert to the self-control theory, as he flung his book clear across the room and kicked the hassock at his feet against a frail table and sent it over with a crash. "It beats—that a man can't have a minute's peace in his own house. I'll just be eternally ding swizzled if I don't join a club or board away from home if I can't have any peace under our own roof. What with smoky old lamps and your tongue going like a trip hammer all of the time and the young ones' bawling and the servants quarreling and dirt and disorder everywhere and—"

"A beautiful specimen of self-conquest you are, Mr. Dawson."

"Don't you say 'self-conquest' to me, or I'll—well, I'll not be responsible for what happens! The cursed fool that wrote that didn't have to put up with smoky lamps and—Well, leave the room if you want to, madam! I'm going to leave the house, and you can be thankful if I don't come home dead drunk! Hanged if you can't!"

HELPING HIM OUT.

How a Wife Ruined Her Husband's Story.

Crawley and his wife were at a dinner party the other night, observes the New York World, and Crawley, who had been waiting three-quarters of an hour for the opportunity, suddenly burst out with: "That reminds me of a little story I heard the other day about an absent-minded man who was going to take a bath one Saturday night and—"

"You are mistaken, my dear," said the wife of Crawley's bosom across the table in her calm, yet firm voice.

"It was not Saturday night, it was on Wednesday night. You always get it wrong when you try to tell the story; and I think that even a simple little story should be told correctly if at all, and you are so apt to get muddled on the main points of a story that I'd better help you out by telling the main points myself, which were that the man was very absent-minded and one night when he had filled his bath tub full of water preparatory to taking a bath his head was so full of other things that without taking off any of his clothes! Those are the main points and now you may go on with the story, Mr. Crawley."

And Crawley laughed lightly as he said: "I guess there is nothing left to tell, my dear," but the thoughts and strong desires that were hidden away in the secret recesses of his heart only Mr. Crawley knew as they went on their homeward way.

A Canny Scot.

A Scotch cobbler, described on the police books as a "notorious offender," was sentenced by a Fortar magistrate to pay a fine of half a crown or, in default, twenty-four hours' hard labor. If he chose the latter he would be taken to the jail at Perth. "Then I'll go to Perth," he said, "for I have some business there."

For official conveyed him to Perth, but when the cobbler reached the jail he said he would pay the fine. The governor found he would have to take it. "And now," said the cobbler, "I want my fare home."

The governor demurred, but discovered there was no alternative; the prisoner must be sent at the public expense to the place he had been brought from. So the canny Scot got the 2 shillings 8½ pence which represented his fare, did his business, and went home triumphant—2-pence halfpenny and a railroad ride the better for his offense. This beats the old "saxpence" story.—Scottish-American.

STUBBS' EXPLANATION.

Stubbs was seated so far back of an agglomeration of gallery gods that only a tall man could get a bird's-eye view of the villain, who, at the end of the third act, was madly shaking the "cheerful leading lady" that she might be "the life of which he had deprived himself with depriving her by a vicious dig of a 25 cent pen knife."

But Stubbs was short—so short that early in the game he had given up trying to see and had amused himself with chewing gum and leveling the opera glasses—which he got out the drop-adime contrivance—at the fat man in an upper box worrying about the strength of his chair.

Smith had brought him to that aerial perch and was gurgling with enormous glee at a play that was below Stubbs' horizon. Finally, when the chorus was doing a little declaiming on its own hook, Smith noticed that his shorter companion was not, as he had been himself, buried inch-deep with seamy smiles. It occurred to him that the proscenium was hidden from his short friend.

"Say, Stubbs, can you see anything?" Overcome with polite mortification that he had not shown the delight expected of a guest, Stubbs stammered out his denials—"saw everything; had not missed a thing," and so on. But Jones had crouched to his level and saw it was all pretense, and Stubbs was put to a crucial test.

"Why, see here," at last Stubbs said, sternly: "why do you persist in the time-worn idea that a thing must be in a direct line of vision to be seen? I never sit where I have to train my eyes on the reality of parlor furniture and canvas castles when I have a chance to watch the dazzling, ethereal mirage of the show as I have tonight!"

WERE IN QUEST OF RAVENS

Astonishment and Material for Gossip for the Male Hamburgers.

For some hours we had been traveling and were now come to an open place in the town of Hamburg, so the driver told me, says a writer in the Atlantic. Here, all at once, I nudged him with a quick command to stop. "There it is!" I cried, as I whipped out my opera glass. "There's a raven!" "Yes," said the driver, "that's the bird." He was flying from us in a diagonal course, making toward a hill or mountain, at a comfortable distance, in the best of lights, and most admirably disposed to show us his dimensions, but he was silent and in tremendous haste. I held the glass on him till he passed out of sight—a really good look, as time counts under such circumstances. Yes, at the last moment I had seen a raven! Another thing I had accomplished. I had supplied three male Hamburgers with abundant material for a week's gossip; for even in my excitement I had been aware that we had halted almost directly in front of a house—the only one for some miles, I think—in the yard of which three men were lounging. I looked at the bird and the men looked at me. It gave me pleasure afterward to think what a story it must have made. "Yes, sir, it's gospel truth; he pulled out a spy-glass and sat there looking at a raven. I reckon he never see one before." I speak of excitement, but it was a wonder to me how temperate my emotions were and how quickly they subsided. Within a half mile our progress was blocked by a large oak tree, which the wind had twisted partly off and thrown square across the road. The driver was obliged to go back to the house for help, leaving me to care for the team. Straight before me loomed the Balsam mountains, a dozen peaks, gloriously high and mountainous, not too far away, yet far enough to be blue, with white clouds veiling their lower slopes and so lifting the tops skyward. I looked at them and looked at them, and between the looks I put the raven into my notebook. For the day it kept its place unquestioned. Then, long before I reached Massachusetts, I punctuated the entry with a question mark. The bird had been silent; its apparent size might have been an illusion; and my assurance of the moment, absolute though it was, would not bear the test of time and cold blood.

The Mashonaland Doll.

No doubt the earliest manufactured toy of all was the doll. Little girls play with dolls everywhere, and have always done so. Indeed, among the Bechuanans and Basutos at the present time married women carry dolls until they are supplanted by real children. There is for its possessor a curious individuality about a doll, altogether unaccountable to other people. How often may it be observed that a child will neglect the splendid new five-shilling waxen beauty, with its gorgeous finery, and cling faithfully to the disreputable, noseless wreck of rags that has been its favorite hitherto! Something causes other children, besides Helen's babies, to dislike "bought dolls," even in the presence of an article made of an old towel. This something, whatever it is, is doubtless a great comfort to the small girls of Mashonaland. It is an innocent, armless sort of affair, without any such disfigurement as waist or shoulders might cause, no knee joints to get unfasted, and nothing at the end of its legs to cause expense at the shoemaker's. As regards dress, it is inexpensive, the whole suit of apparel consisting of a piece of string threaded through a hole humbly bored through the head.

Beck Beer.

Some unusually fine Beck beer was put on the market this season, but none could compare with that which George C. Clausen—"King Caspar"—bottled in 1896. It was exceptionally rich Wurzburger, mellow as a June apple and thick as blood! It was an experiment with the ex-park commissioner, who wanted to see the effect of bottling such a brew. When opened at the end of nine or ten months the bottles gave forth contents such as had never been dreamed of. The beer had all the qualities of the dryest champagne, excepting the taste, which was slightly malty. One bottle would make the average man drunk. The glasses were so strong and the acid so sharp that they cut like a knife when swallowed.

Novelty in Type Material.

A new idea in type material is the combination of glass with celluloid or hard rubber. The body of the type is made of rubber or celluloid upon which glass-topped letters are firmly cemented. In order that the face of the type in the form may not touch, the extreme face is a trifle smaller than the body portion. Great advantages are claimed for this sort of type, among them being that glass will wear very much longer than metal, and the print will therefore be sharper and clearer. With the slightly elastic base and the small sections in which the letters are made there is but little danger of breakage, even with very rapid work.

Choosing a Magazine.

Fogg—"Henry, run out and get me a magazine." Henry—"Yes, sir; which one?" Fogg—"Oh, it doesn't matter. The same pictures of bicycles, kodaks and typewriters are in all of them. Any one will do."—Boston Transcript.

Looking Ahead.
